Comments and Suggestions to the Author(s):

It is advisable that the applied research methodology in this research must be backed up. That is, you could cite some authors that have applied such a methodology, successfully, in others similar jobs.

Also, it is recommendable to justify statistically the sample of the ten papers used for getting to your conclusions. That is, why not to use 20 papers instead of ten, or five instead of ten.

Last, in order to achieve excellent conclusions, it is advisable that all the information must come from papers instead of government statistics.

Comments and Suggestions to the Editors Only:

It is advisable that this manuscript is not published until the comments a suggestions are attended.
