Comments and Suggestions to the Author(s):

I would not use expressions such as "this is evident" (once) or "there is no doubt" (twice). These expressions suggest the affirmation and the negation of the topic stated.

1. In our opinion, the article and abstract should include the part "Research methods. Source Basis".

2. As the article is based on correspondence using archival materials (the Archives of the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the State Archive of Venice (Archivio di stato di Venezia) , it is necessary to reflect this in the summary

There are a few grammatical errors and spelling mistakes in this article.

(Please insert your comments)

I didn't find any grammatical or spelling mistakes.

On page 10, various forms of spelling of Moschopolis are given depending on the language: "Moschopolis, as the place of origin of merchants, appears in the State Archives in various corrupt forms as Moscopoli, Moscoppoli, Moscopolj, Moscopole, Voscopoli, Voscopolij, Voscoppoli, Voscopolj. Moschopolitans appear as Moscopoliti, Moscopolit, Moscopolean, Muscopul'ian, mercanti moscopoliti, greci din Moscopole, certi mercanti greci di Moscopoli, I Greci di Moscopoli, mercanti greci da Voscopoli, mercanti greci di Moscopoli». In our opinion, it is better to include them in the part "Introduction".

The study METHODS are explained clearly.

*

(Please insert your comments)

I didn't find any methods.

Concerning sources:

1. Various sources were used to prepare the article. The article is based on the analysis of collections of archival documents, especially letters, that is, correspondence of Greek and Venetian merchants. For example, Papahagi, Valeriu. Aromânii Moscopoleni și comerțul Venetian în secolele al XVII-lea și al XVIII-lea. Bucharest: Editura Societății de Cultură Macedo-Română, 1935. In our opinion, it was necessary to indicate this fact in the abstract.

2. The article contains a linguistic approach, focuses on the language of letters. The section " The Greek language and the Moschopoli's location» is dedicated to this topic. It shown that the main language was Greek. It seems that this approach should be presented in the abstract.

The body of the paper is clear and does not contain errors.

Comments and Suggestions to the Author(s):

A rectangular text input field with a light gray border. On the right side, there is a vertical scroll bar with a small upward-pointing arrow at the top and a downward-pointing arrow at the bottom. At the bottom of the field, there are four small navigation buttons: a left-pointing arrow, a square button, a right-pointing arrow, and another square button.
