The TITLE is clear and it is adequate to the content of the article.

WE BELIEVE THAT THE TITLE IS ACCEPTABLE, BUT IF WE USE THE PICOT, WE WILL SEE MISSING INFORMATION IN THE TITLE.

THEREFORE, WE PROPOSE THE FOLLOWING TITLE:

Hypoglycemic activity of Tridax procumbens leaves in alloxan-induced diabetic rats, a 30-day comparative study

The ABSTRACT clearly presents objects, methods, and results.

The summary is acceptable, however the introduction of alloxan as stated in the document does not appear in the summary.

according results: It is also important to present the confidence interval in order to better understand the significance of the p-value (P), insofar as the ANOVA indicates that there is a difference only between at least one of the groups, and given that the confidence interval containing the value (0) has no epidemiological significance.

There are a few grammatical errors and spelling mistakes in this article.

There are a few typos in the manuscript, including:

- On page 3, "oeuvre" is not spelled correctly.
- "Pharmacopée" is attached to "de."
- The reference "NIYAH et al" is not spelled correctly.
- On page 4, "pharmacopée" is attached to "de."
- The word "normo gycémique" is not a single word, but a compound word.
- 200mg/dl and not 200mg/dL etc.....

The study METHODS are explained clearly.

This study was well conducted, however it would be better to show the confidence interval in the results, especially for the Turkey-Kramer test, which allows for a better assessment of the difference between groups.

The body of the paper is clear and does not contain errors.

Please refer to pages 3 and 4 for some errors.

The CONCLUSION or summary is accurate and supported by the content.
