

REVIEW REPORT ON THE TITLE -“INTEGRATING PEACE EDUCATION INTO THE NIGERIAN BASIC EDUCATION CURRICULUM FOR A LASTING CULTURE OF PEACE AND ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY”

The title -“Integrating Peace Education into the Nigerian Basic Education Curriculum for a Lasting Culture of Peace and Environmental Sustainability” is suitable and fits the content. I however suggest the removal of ‘culture of’ from it. It should be rephrased as “Integrating Peace Education into the Nigerian Basic Education Curriculum for a Lasting Peace and Environmental Sustainability”.

Abstract: the abstract was well written but for minor spelling and punctuation errors which I have effected like changing troublent for turbulent, strucking for facing, etc.

Content: A well researched paper. I had to do a general formatting of the paper taking care of paragraphing and punctuation mistakes. I tried maintaining consistency in the reporting verbs – I chose the past and used that to review the paper. All hanging sentences have been removed.

The author however should provide page numbers for direct citations. I also suggest that the statement of the problem section of the paper should be downsized.

The research design stated that four states were used for the study while the population stated that the research was conducted in Anambra state. Which do we take? This confusion strayed down to the “instrument of data collection” in the last paragraph talking about the reliability of the instrument. The author should revisit these sections and make adequate corrections.

The author should also revisit table 2 to indicate the participants for all the items.

Decision: This paper is publishable after minor corrections. The area the author dealt into is a topical issue in Nigeria at her crises moment. Like the author I agree Nigeria ought to start from the scratch for peace to return.
