Description of the correction.

The authors of the paper entitled “Preliminary outcomes of feasibility and efficacy of brief resilience stress training: A pilot study of the MARST program.” [The European Scientific Journal. 2, 211-221 ISSN: 1857 – 7881] inadvertently omitted Andrew Hanna (Psychologist/ PhD Candidate School of Health & Human Sciences Southern Cross University Coffs Harbour NSW) from the list of authors.

The author Andrew Hanna should have been added after Pidgeon, A.M. in the published manuscript.

Andrew Hanna was not on the initial authors list at the time of the first submission, and was added during the revising of the article, when he contributed to the writing of the revised manuscript. This omission has been corrected in the online version of the paper on the ESJ website on September 19, 2018, together with the publication of this correction notice.

APOLOGY

As corresponding author, Aileen Pidgeon sincerely apologises to Mr Hanna for the authorship oversight and for not properly acknowledging his role in the published version of the paper.
