

Dear ESJ Team,

Since agility is of paramount consideration, upon receipt of the paper, I have reviewed it and made necessary editions/corrections. The following are my comments: 1. The abstract is concisely/precisely designed direct-to-the point, which captures the interest of the reader. Usually, too lengthy abstracts, sometimes, will bore the reader. 2. The paper is based on the framework of educational policy here in the Philippines. It is designed/created based on current educational trend. It is just appropriate and timely for an author to do research as this one. 3. The paper draws its basic conclusion towards recommendation. 4. It has many references exhausted, which makes the paper credible with integrity. I found the paper adequate and coherent in both form and substance, which makes sense of logic, only that, I made corrections and framed the paper accordingly. As a reviewer, I, therefore, recommend it for publication in the European Scientific Journal. Please download the new version or the edited manuscript. I assure that it is more enhanced and thoroughly re-designed or re-engineered.

Note Well: Please send the author the edited version of the manuscript.